

Choose one of the symbols below to represent each of your three priorities. Draw a gold line between them and write your priorities above the lines.

You have now staked your priorities to the ground. You can move forward with new focus and clarity.

